

Terms & Conditions for use of the Kenton United Synagogue Website

The Kenton United Synagogue website (this 'Website') serves the Kenton Jewish community and provides detailed information about every aspect of Jewish life in Kenton.

You can visit this Website without revealing any information about yourself and this Website is not used to collect information from those accessing it. We do not collect any personal data from you on visiting this Website.

Data Privacy

For the purpose of the UK Data Protection Act 1998, the 'Data Controller' for the processing of any data on the Website is Kenton United Synagogue, and the point of contact for data subject access requests is The Synagogue Administrator.

Kenton United Synagogue is also Data Controller in respect of any personal data served as content by the Website.

When you submit personal data in connection with a booking for an event, payment or a donation, that personal data is used only in connection with the purpose for which it is submitted, is not processed for any other purpose and is not stored or retained, other than as reasonably required in connection with such purpose.

Copyright and Disclaimer

All material contained on the Website is protected by UK and international copyright laws.

Consent has been obtained from the copyright owner to its use on the Website. Such material should not be used for any other purpose.

If you submit any material or information (including photos) for use on the Website, your submission of the material for this purpose is deemed to be consent to the use of that material on the Website and you represent and warrant on such submission to have full authority and that you have obtained all necessary consents from persons whose personal data is contained in or disclosed by such submission.
